

Everyone Starts Sacred.

Garden of the Gods

At the time before birth we are given a choice:
freewill or destiny.

We choose, and then forget. And as we all go forth, forward in life, we must find ways to accept the blank slate of knowledge, this fact that we do not know why we are really here.